It is a great privilege to give these eulogies on behalf of the family, Church and community.

Michael was born in Gloucester in England, on 19 August 1939. He has a younger sister, Helen. Michael's full name is John William Michael Cornock Moulder, and his father's name was Alfred John Moulder. However, his father was usually known as John, so the young John that we know similarly adopted one of his middle names as his primary name, and was thenceforth known as Michael John Moulder.

His father was an electrician, and from him Michael came to value being a capable handyman at all trades. His mother was Frances Edith, née Shatford. Her family were skilled cards players, and Michael retained an enthusiasm for Whist and Bridge.
Being born in England in 1939, his first six years were marked by the Second World War. Children at that time were sent to the country for relative safety from bombing, and Michael went to Wales, where he went to school and learnt some basic Welsh.

He relates eating lots of rabbit as meat was so rationed. He remembers 'When the American convoys drove up Ermin Street, I used to call out "have you got any gum, chum" and, if lucky, an American soldier would throw me a packet of Wrigley's chewing gum which we couldn't buy because sweets were so rationed.' During this time, his father served in the navy on aircraft carriers, and Michael collected many model aircraft. One can imagine the sheer excitement and happiness of a young boy as he thought of planes and flight. He would be just bursting with pleasure and it would be like a dream come true.

One of Michael's first jobs was at a power company. As was common at that time, asbestos was used extensively as insulation material there, and this is believed to be the cause of Michael being diagnosed with lung cancer many decades later, despite Michael never having been a smoker. Michael later worked for some years at a bank, where he learned financial and communication skills that he would later use as a priest.

Kathleen was born in Aldershot, England, on 14 October 1942. She grew up in Herefordshire. Her parents died when she was a teenager. If this had a positive side, it was that she had a degree of independence around this time, allowing her to study Arts at University, in Leeds. In school she found herself an odd one out and had few friends, but moving to university made it easier to find people sharing the same interests.

She majored in French, and part of her studies were undertaken at the Sorbonne in Paris, France, where she lived with a family, looking after children, in exchange for board and lodging and of course exposure to French culture through the family. Part of this cultural experience with a French family was eating unfamiliar foods.

She recalls being given globe artichokes, which she'd never eaten before, so didn't know that one should first peel off the tough outer layer. So there she was, putting on a brave face, trying to eat the food she'd been given, in accordance with English manners, while the children looked on in horror!

Michael & Kathleen's paths crossed in 1969. Each was at a crossroads of some kind in their life, and had decided to join a group travelling in a couple of Land Rovers from England through Europe, the Middle East, Indonesia, then to Darwin and through Australia. The people in the group picked before they did that they would be an item.

Sure enough, before the end of the trip, they married in Adelaide at the end of 1969. They went back to UK and in 1971 they welcomed with joy, Daryl, their first child who was born in England on the outskirts of London in Reading (pronounced Redding).
They returned to Adelaide and Michael set up an almond orchard and in the mornings he was a milkman. It was here in Adelaide in 1975 that their second child, another boy, Peter was born and welcomed to their family. They took an interest in self -sufficiency, and in early 1978 they went to country Tasmania to grow their own potatoes and vegetables, herbs and apples.

They kept a jersey cow and made their own butter; kept chickens and pigs; bees and fields of oats. A third child was born to Michael and Kathleen in 1978, this time, a baby girl whom they named Hazel. They lived in a small community where there were only 26 students in the primary school.

In early 1982, they moved to England so that Michael could begin his Theological studies. England allowed the children to spend time with their extended family members, such as Grandfather, Aunt and cousins. Michael, Kath and the children were in England for 4 years.

When Michael, Kathleen and the family came back to Australia, Michael was interviewed for two Dioceses. He told Fr. John Gibson "I have a strong urge that the Diocese of Riverina was the right place for me. The Bishop of Riverina was such a humble person and this is what attracted me to this Diocese." In early 1986, they moved to Broken Hill in the middle of the desert ... and miles from anywhere. Michael was made a Deacon in 1986 and in the same year priested by Bishop Barry Hunter.

Michael's training was under Fr Bart O'Donovan. Michael was Curate in Charge at St. Peter's, Broken Hill from 1986-1988. After Broken Hill, they moved to Berrigan. In those early days, Lesley Wakem (Uniting Church Minister); Fr. John McGrath (Catholic Church) and Michael Moulder (Anglican Church) formed a Minister's Fraternal and it was decided to have the ecumenical Stations of the Cross on Good Friday. Fr. John McGrath was so impressed with the great care and enthusiasm that Michael took as he made wooden crosses and nailed them to trees around the area of St. Aidan's: depicting Christ's journey to the Cross. This service is still going strong today.

Michael was priest in charge of Berrigan from 1988 to 1994. And then, on to Edenhope (Diocese of Ballarat) for four years. They moved back to England and Michael was a Priest in the parishes of Tividale and Greets Green in the industrial north of England in the Diocese of Lichfield.

They returned to Berrigan in 2004 to retire, but Michael didn't really retire as he was given authority to officiate in Wangaratta and Riverina Dioceses. Michael offered his services to parishes for Sunday worship and he was Assistant Chaplain at St. John's Retirement Village in Wangaratta from 2007-2012 and Assistant Priest at Cobram from 2004-2016. Wherever there was a Priest needed, Michael stepped into the breach.

Michael and Kathleen were known here in Berrigan and so in many ways it was easy for them to return. Michael joined the Menshed on 2nd May, 2013 and loved going there on a Tuesday and Thursday to chat with the men and to join in with the activities of the group as well as enjoying the morning cuppa.
God had gifted Michael with a beautiful voice which the community loved to hear at the Christmas Carols in the town each year as well as in the church services at Berrigan.

Kathleen is a lesson in not judging a book by its cover. To many people, she's just a poorly dressed woman who doesn't chat much. On account of her being naturally quiet and not liking to engage in light conversation, one person even took offence and concluded that she's snobbish – which seems ludicrous when one considers how remarkably little she's tried to make herself grand or seek others' regard, or choose friends based on their social standing.

While the cover of this book appeared as pride to one person, anyone who reads the book finds humility, willingness to spend time helping others, putting others first, and finding pleasure not in social standing or the sort of pleasures people seek to find in wealth, but rather in the slow things in life: in the beauty of nature, of trees, birds, butterflies and animals; in reading; and starting each day early, in prayer and contemplation.

On prayer, she once explained: "I used to find prayer difficult, because I'd run out of things to say. But in time, I learnt that prayer didn't need me to keep talking, that one can be with God in silence, without words."

Michael was an old-fashioned priest. He was a hard-working priest in the Parish of Berrigan. Very pastoral and he really cared for his parishioners. Not many people are aware of the beautiful Christian works that Kath did in the parish. Visiting sick people in hospital no matter whether you believed in God or not. Visiting in their homes those who were grieving. Just about every Saturday, Kath would come to my place and we would talk and pray together for the needs of our families, the community, and the world. We each looked forward to these times so much.

She rose at 4 a.m. each day to pray and listen to God's direction. Kath was holy, funny, clever and she was so kind and very faithful in worship. Kath would come straggling into worship at the last minute with a number of bags hanging off her shoulder. The bags contained jams, eggs, silver beet, lettuce, lemons, fruit. all to give to people who needed them. These would all be from their garden and chooks. Michael would be sitting there waiting for her. He'd take her hand and kiss it and then they sat down.

They were romantics. Another time, Michael was heard to say to Kath when she came into church, "my dear, you look particularly lovely today"… and Kath's eyes would light up like a Christmas tree. At the greeting of the peace, Michael would take Katheen's hand and kiss it. They just adored each other.
She was an avid reader and a member of an ecumenical bible study group. Photography was a keen hobby that Michael enjoyed immensely and he entered photographs in the local show. Growing grapes and making his own wine was another hobby in which he took great delight. He entered his wine in the South Australian Wine Festival and won a Silver Medal for one of his "reds".

Many of us benefited from and enjoyed Michael's beautiful wines, lovely cheeses and Kath's home cooking. Michael said that Kath was the most wonderful mother and Grandmother and was overjoyed with Brian, their Grand-child. She always had time for the children.. stopping whatever she was doing to see what they wanted. Michael was wonderful in so much, that, if you ever needed help, he would always do his best to help out if he could.

Kath told Hazel in some memoirs recently, that Hazel in her childhood was allowed to move to a higher class by Miss Wise an Australian; and then Miss Jones, your teacher said you had received the finest training any girl could have: two older brothers! Michael and Kathleen just loved their children Daryl, Peter, Hazel and Ivy and Brian. At a recent Menshed morning, Michael said that he was so happy in his life that his kids had come home for Easter.

We, as a community are devastated by the incredible loss we all feel and particularly for their family.
Our love and prayers are with you. The Hymns in this service are a final tribute to Kath and these were some of her favourites.

As we reflect on Michael's life, part of the Riverina Diocesan prayer: Beauty of worship; preaching of the faith; holiness of living will be seen in Michael. Michael and Kathleen have been together in life, in death and now in the nearer presence of God. VE

Farm Case Study

Our Year 11 Agriculture class finally were able to make the trip to Robertsons' farms for the Farm Case Study visit on Monday 30th of June.

Unfortunately, it was very wet and cold, but the enthusiastic bunch of students were still able to gain some valuable insights into the operations of the farm.

Among the highlights we were able to see included; inspecting the cotton picker, seeing the cotton crops, entering one of the huge 1000 tonne empty silos that are used to dry and store grain, seeing the driplines on the lateral irrigator, hearing about the capability of the John Deere app and learning about soil moisture monitoring.

We had a great day. Thanks to Cameron Robertson for allowing us to visit and taking the time to show us around. Thank you also for the tasty BBQ at the end of the day.

Riding Develops Abilities (RDA)

We have included some more news outlining the RDA. Abigail Searle, Kade Buckley and Taralee Graham attend Riding Develops Abilities in Cobram every fortnight. The students participate in a range of activities whilst mounted on horseback. Horseback riding is an excellent activity as the balance required helps to engage both sides of the body and brain whilst having fun directing tennis balls down a chute, tent pegging and shooting hoops. Yes, all from horseback with the help of the wonderful RDA volunteers. The smiles on the faces of the students who participate is an absolute sight to behold.

THE BERRIGAN BOOKSHOP REVIEW

It was such a pleasure to have Christos Tsiolkas, author of The Slap, Damasus and Merciless Gods drop into our shop for a book signing on May 26th.

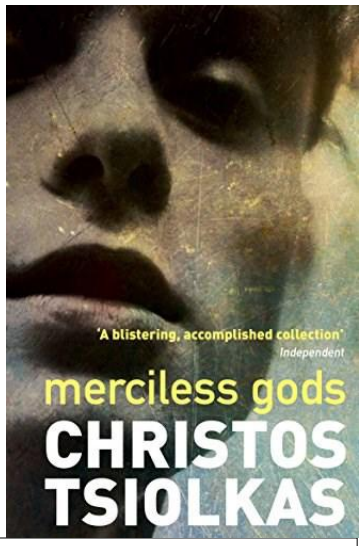
We had met the previous evening in Cobram where I had gone to see the movie "Little Tornadoes" which he co-wrote. It was such a familiar movie - there were places and people I knew and even the themes of migration, loneliness and single-parenting were ones I could relate to from personal experience.

I know the BDDA is looking into having a screening of this movie at the Memorial Hall. We shall have to see how successful we are with that venture - watch this space!

On to the book. Now, as you know, I have a preference for reading high fantasy and romance books because I like my fiction to have no basis in reality what so ever. The more fantastic, the better. So, reading this particular book was way out of my normal zone. Merciless Gods is a collection of short stories. Dark, devious insights into human nature they are. Tsiolkas' themes of sex, love, family and death feel real and seedy. Citified and sophisticated, these are confronting stories that don't hold back with either their imagery or language.

I liked it! I have met people like the ones portrayed in this book, have known broken people in similar situations. It's not happy stories with the ubiquitous happy ending. In fact, the first story concerns itself with a group of uni friends who, drunk on booze and drugs, discuss their darkest secrets.

As a mother with a daughter at university, a small part of me is very concerned about what people get up to in that environment… how much truth is there in fiction? That is the question. I have since had The Slap recommended to me - "its dark" I believe was said. Good, can't always believe in fairy tales. Think I will give it a read at some point, just to satisfy my curiosity.



Happy Reading , CVB

We certainly know that winter is with us with the recent cold snap. With the cold weather goes the flu. We strongly recommend that if you have not had your flu vaccination for this year that you contact the surgery and get one as soon as possible. This year the vaccination is free to all those that want it. They are warning us that this will be a bad year for the flu and many cases across the country have already been detected.

WANT TO KNOW MORE ABOUT WHAT LHAC REALLY DOES?

Local Health Advisory Committees (LHAC) were formed in 2012 when Murrumbidgee Local Health District (MLHD) was established (Previously part of the Greater Southern Area Health Network). The LHACs were originally established as a conduit between the health district and the community. Since that time, the role of LHAC has evolved and members are much more involved in a wider range of activities.

Today, there are 28 active LHACs across the region. Committees are made up of volunteers, who give up their time to represent their community's interests. They each take on roles according to identified needs of their community, from advocating for health service needs, to raising awareness around service availability, to providing feedback and informing health services.

As each town in our region is unique, the LHAC projects are wide and varied. From providing feedback – through health service planning, conversations on the couch, forums and other avenues of engagement – to participating in awareness campaigns to raise community understanding about availability and access to services.

LHACs are supported by the MLHD, together with the Murrumbidgee Primary Health Network (MPHN), through the provision of information and by providing access to the respective Executive and the Boards to voice their concerns, opinions and ideas for better health outcomes.

The MLHD and MPHN are looking to re-establish committees in Batlow, Boorowa, Corowa, Hillston and Leeton.

More information about the role of LHACs is available on the MLHD webpage here: https:// www.mlhd.health.nsw.gov.au/.../local-health...

The LHAC Terms of Reference is also publicly available on this page.

Anyone wishing to join the LHAC can apply at any time through the links on the page mentioned above or by clicking here: https://forms.office.com/Pages/ ResponsePage.aspx...

Your Local Berrigan LHAC is active in a number of area currently including working on several projects and advocating for better Allied health services for the area.

25 Chanter Street Berrigan - All Welcome !
Restoration, Repairs and Sales of Furniture,

Welcome to July with the start of the winter ski season prior to the June long weekend making for a somewhat "normal" winter. Plenty of moisture on the ground for our rural families to ensure a great spring into spring for dormant winter crops. A few shed members have chosen to flee our cool climes for sunny Queensland and further north to ensure a more comfortable winter.

A timely reminder to all members that yearly subscriptions ($20) are due and payable before 30th June to either treasurer Ian or secretary Myles and have a receipt written. We are looking to keep our membership around 30 for the next year and despite the sad loss of members we have at least three new members join during the year.

The kick-off to the annual State of Origin season has seen our Maroon friends striking the first blow in Sydney with an entertaining, hard fought and intense 80 minutes with the Blues desperate to draw level up to the 80th minute. On the international sporting front our SOCCEROOS have beaten Peru to advance into the Soccer World Cup Draw. Closer to home, Demon supporters are watching the draw with the top of the table leader at the start of the season now sharing the lead with the Lions and the Dockers.

Garden Bed demand is still outstripping supply and the shed is seeking 8ft X 27" sheets of corrugated iron to assist with the manufacture of the beds. Members will pick up any donated sheets within the shire boundary. ALL donations will be gratefully accepted. Please contact the Secretary (Myles) on 0419 522 740 for pick-up of iron. Much appreciated!

Finally, please ensure that members ensure their ongoing health by avoiding the dreaded COVID 19 virus which is out and about with good hand hygiene, social distancing and having masks handy. Supplies of Rapid Antigen Test Kits are available locally.

Until Next Time – HAPPY SHEDDING Myles Humphries

BERRIGAN COMMUNITY GARDEN

There is not much ready for harvest at the moment. We do have limes, oranges, small carrots, silverbeet, some snow peas and herbs. Currently growing, we have celery, purple cabbage, parsnips, peas, broadbeans and broccoli if we can keep the aphids away. If you have an organic remedy for these pests please come and share it with us. July is when your new Membership falls due for the next 12 months. A 12 month membership is $5 and all the proceeds of the membership payments go towards improvements to the garden. There are some guidelines to being a member, but you are not committed to be there every week. Our active members are dwindling, so some new faces would be a great help. If you would like more information about becoming a member or if you would like to come along and share your ideas with us, we meet Wednesday's 1.30pm and Saturday 9.30 am. C Way

BERRIGAN CWA NEWS

Besides cooking, handicrafts and art work, CWA of NSW has sections for the talented writers. There are sections for short stories and poems. Last years poem was to be written about "Grandparents". Our talented poet Isabel Ryan entered her poem in Sturt Group. She was the lucky winner and her entry was taken to the recent 100th State Conference held at Randwick, Sydney.
The winning poem is in the latest Journal, but I am sure Isabel's poem would have been of great interest to the judges. I thought you might like to read Isabel's poem as many of us would be very familiar to her story. (Right)

Our talented artist Marnie Steer entered her Miniature painting at Sturt Group and won First Prize. At the recent State Conference in Sydney, Marnie was even more thrilled to win First Prize in the State. This delightful painting, about the size of a postcard , was painted by

GRANDPARENTS

Being a grandparent is good fun
Extra arms to give a bottle or wipe a dirty bum.

To be available to give a cuddle
When their Mum and Dad are in a muddle.

A bandaid handy when there was strife
Watching the milestones of their life.

Our first grandson came 25 years ago
He was the centre of attention, we loved him so.

With great surprise 12 years later, the TRIPLETS arrived
Fit and healthy, all 3 boys survived.

2 more boys in 2 more years
But way over in Singapore. Oh the tears.

6 years later another little boy
Born a tad early, but what a joy.

Next thing we know TWINS are on their way
A boy and finally a GIRL so the ultra sounds say.

But, God came and took their little girl home
Wrapped safely in a dress made from her mother's wedding gown

On a very special phone, when the 2 boys get the blues
They ring their sister Grace in Heaven to tell her their news.

8 grandsons have come into our lives
We blessed them all as they arrived.

Now we have a great grandchild and another on the way
It is the Never Ending Story and we thank God every day.
